As with ordinary easel cards, this version will work with any size you decide to work with. For my card I have used a Marianne die for the top of the card to give it a nice shape, if you don't have a fancy die, you could maybe just round the top of.

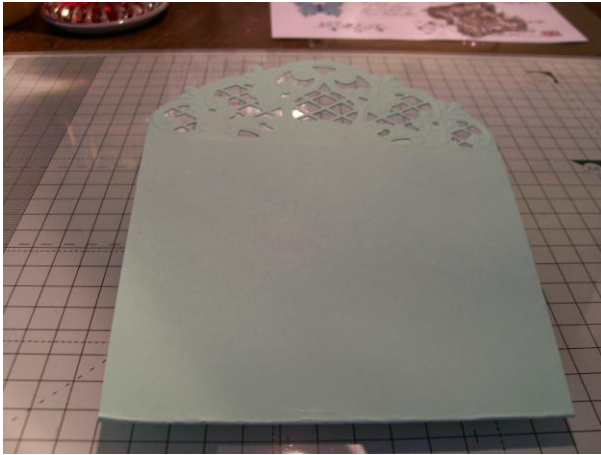

I have used some very low tack tape to hold the die in place

This is how it looks after it has been run through the die cutting machine

Turn the card over and fold the card in half

Fold the back of the card in half again, back in on itself

I have used a sentiment topper on the back of the card as a stopper

I have decorated the front of the card with a tea bag matted onto a die cut and then decorated it with gems.

Here are a couple of variations
